

Adult Forum and Lifelong Learning Presentations

Sarah Ruble

sruble@gustavus.edu

The following is a sampling of presentations I have given at adult forums in churches or at lifelong learning classes. I can tailor the presentations for the interests of groups. Most of the presentations are designed for two hours of teaching (either consecutive hours or consecutive weeks), but I can alter many of them so that they are shorter or longer.

If you have an area of interest related to U.S. religious history or Christian theology that you do not see listed, please let me know. If it is an area in which I have some expertise, I will usually be able to craft a presentation for your group. If it is not an area in which I have expertise, I am happy to recommend colleagues who might be willing to speak to your group or resources that your group could use to explore the topic on your own.

- American Christians in Politics
- Are Only Christians Saved?
- Christian Fundamentalism in the United States
- Christianity in Asia
- Conversion and Evangelism in a Pluralistic Society
- Decline of the Mainline?
- Early Theologians You Should Know
- Evangelicals and Politics
- Evil, Sin, and Suffering
- Freedom in U.S. Religious Thought
- Heaven in the American Imagination
- Helping Youth Learn a Deep Faith in a Shallow World
- How Grace Works (According to Various Theologians)
- Insiders and Outsiders in U.S. Religion
- Islam in the United States
- Millennial Visions in the United States
- Missionaries and U.S. Power
- Mormon Belief and Theology
- Race and Christianity in the United States
- Religion and Law in the United States
- Religious Liberals and Conservatives After World War II
- Theological Controversies (examples include Trinitarian Controversies; Faith and Work; Predestination and Free Will)
- Turning Points in U.S. Religious History
- Unbelief in the United States
- World Religions in the United States

Free YouTube-based Curriculum on Race and Christianity: This curriculum is built around eight 20 to 25 minute videos and also includes discussion guides for groups. You can watch the videos and download the curriculum at sarahruble.com

Compensation: I am grateful to groups that are able to compensate me for my work. My standard compensation for an hour-long presentation is $125 plus travel costs. If you are part of a group that cannot afford compensation, please feel free to contact me about alternatives or consider using my free video series.